Chester Bernell Duryea, who shot and killed his father, Gen. Hiram Duryea, millionaire head of the family of starch manufacturers and distinguished civil war veteran, as he slept in his home, No. 120 Eighty-fifth street, Bay Ridge, early to-day, was arraigned in the Fifth Avenue Police Court this morning. His hearing was postponed until Thursday morning to give him time to get counsel. Duryea was brought to court from Police Headquarters by Detectives Henne and Dwyer. He seemed dazed and incapable of understanding what was going on about him.

Duryea is a slender man of medium height with black hair and a small black mustache. His dark eyes seemed sunken beneath his unusually high brow to-day and he blinked his lids constantly.

Duryea was kept in the detention pen for nearly an hour while Magistrate Reynolds awaited the coming of his brother, Harry D. Duryea, member of the stock brokerage firm of Duryea & Tappan, No. 20 Broad street, but at last the Magistrate determined to go ahead in Mr. Duryea's absence. Louis T. Duryea, a first cousin of the murderer, and Della and Anna Halleran, servants in the home of Gen. Duryea, who had heard the reports of the shots, were present.

Chester Duryea was brought in between the detectives and Magistrate Reynolds inquired his name. Duryea's eyes, which had shot glances here and there about the room, settled on the Magistrate's face and he seemed to collect himself with an effort. Then he answered slowly but clearly with a very distinct pause between each word. His manner throughout his brief examination was deliberate.

ACCUSED SON DIDN'T WANT ANY DELAY.

Magistrate Reynolds advised him of his right to be represented by counsel and asked if he cared to demand the forty-eight hour postponement which was his by right of law. Duryea thought a moment and then replied: "No. Not unless E. Clarkson Seward would care to take the case."

Magistrate Reynolds told him that ex-Assistant District Attorney Robert Elder had already telephoned to Court and volunteered his services, but Duryea shook his head.

Louis Duryea asked permission to speak to his cousin, and after learning that he knew nothing of the case Magistrate Reynolds allowed him to go with Chester Duryea into an ante-room. The cousins were together about five minutes, and when they emerged Chester Duryea announced that he would accept the forty-eight hour postponement. Magistrate Reynolds then committed him to the Baymont Street Jail without bail and he was taken from court.

Louis Duryea, in reply to a question of the Magistrate, said that his cousin's mental condition had been a subject of discussion by the family for more than a year.

Duryea was violent just after day-break when he was locked in a cell in the Fort Hamilton station. He

HUERTA TO RETIRE THURSDAY, MEXICO CITY REFUGEES SAY; REIGN OF TERROR PREDICTED

Dictator Said to Realize Helplessness of Situation and to Have Agreed to Leave Capital Before
End of Week.

VERA CRUZ, May 5.—Refugees arriving here to-day from Mexico City say that, realizing the hopelessness of the situation, Gen. Huerta has agreed to retire from the Presidency, fixing Thursday of this week as the date of his withdrawal.

On the other hand, other reports from the capital originating in sources no less credible declare that Gen. Huerta, instead of yielding, has determined to play out the game. He is fully aware that mediation will mean time, even if it does not lead to an amicable adjustment of the difficulty.

A plot is now on foot in the capital, the Mexicans declare, to drive Huerta from power. Gen. Jimenez Castro, the executioner of Jojutla, who ordered 149 mutineers lined up and shot, is said by some of the refugees to be attempting to seize the army. Imitating the Dictator, the Mexicans say the conspirators hope to beat Gen. Villa and his rebel horde of the North into the capital. They do not intend to oppose Villa, but want to share the benefits of the rebel victory in the looting that is declared to be certain to follow.

Reports reaching here indicate that the situation at Tampico is extremely ominous. The rebels are planning a general attack as soon as all Americans are out of the city and heavy damage is expected.

The Mexican Federal troops have mined the railroad tracks from Vera Cruz to Mexico City, preparing for the utter destruction of the road in the event that American forces attempt a march on the capital.

No confirmation has been received of reports that the San Francisco Bridge on the Inter-oceanic Railroad had been damaged.

Zapata Threatens Attack on Mexican Capital To-Day

(Special Cable Dispatch to The Evening World.)

VERA CRUZ, May 5.—Reports emanating from the capital that Gen. Zapata has agreed to make common cause with Huerta against the United States seem to be disproved by a proclamation, dated May 1 and bearing

OLNEY DECLINES TO HEAD FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

Sends Letter to Wilson Refusing Appointment Under
New Currency Law.

BOSTON, May 5.—Richard Olney has addressed a letter to President Wilson formally declining the appointment as Governor of the Federal Reserve Board of the new banking system. The action of Mr. Olney was not a surprise as it was reported that he was averse to again entering public life.

Friends of Mr. Olney say his reasons for declining the appointment are his age and his desire for freedom from such cares and responsibilities as he would have to undertake as head of the new banking system.

Mr. Olney is seventy-eight years old, but is active in the practice of the law and one of the leading members of his profession in New England.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—That Richard Olney of Boston, former Secretary of State, would not accept the President's appointment to the head of the Federal Banking Reserve Board, was reported from Boston to-day. The President is awaiting the letter which Mr. Olney is reported to have sent him from Boston formally declining the office.

The news was a distinct disappointment to President Wilson.

It was reported as likely that W. P. G. Harding, President of the First National Bank of Birmingham, Ala., who has been appointed member of the Board from the South, would be named as Governor.

HEROES WHO DIED FIGHTING AT VERA CRUZ ARE TO BE HONORED HERE BY THE CITY

Military Escort Is to Head the Funeral Cortage and Parade the East Side.

New York is to pay a public tribute to the heroes who lost their lives at the taking of Vera Cruz, whose bodies are now on their way here aboard the battleship Montana. There is to be a big procession of the naval and State militia, a full honor escort of the New York police and perhaps fire department; a reception committee of leading men, who will meet the funeral ship at the Battery. All flags in the city of New York will be at half-mast, and ceremonies are to be arranged at City Hall. Mayor Mitchell sent Theodore Rousseau, his secretary, to see Commandant Albert N. Gleaves of the Brooklyn navy yard to-day, and Mr. Rousseau made formal request that the bodies of the Vera Cruz heroes be turned over to the city of New York when the Montana reaches the Battery, and that the city be permitted to take charge of them; until it has paid them fitting honors.

Commandant Gleaves immediately telegraphed to Secretary Daniels for instructions. It is understood that the navy will find the plans of the city agreeable.

The Montana will reach the lower bay some time Sunday night or Monday morning. In any event she will not make her appearance within sight of the Battery until Monday morning, when the ceremonies are to begin.

Although the plans for the public funeral are yet only tentative, it is understood that either a Government

EXECUTORS REPORT 'BIG TIM'S' ESTATE WORTH $970,237

Counsel for Claimant Not Satisfied and Insists on Arrests for Contempt.

With their arrest for contempt of court ordered, Lawrence Mulligan and Patrick H. Sullivan filed to-day with Surrogate Coburn the inventory of "Big Tim" Sullivan's estate of which they are executors. The Surrogate signed the warrant for their arrest yesterday and it was placed in the hands of the Sheriff this morning, but the executors got until 1 o'clock this afternoon to file the document.

The estate, according to the inventory, is valued at $970,237. This valuation is based upon a report made by the appraisers, Frederick J. Kennedy and William I. Burke. After reading the inventory in the Surrogate's office today Attorney Saul E. Rogers, representing William Fox, the theatrical man, who has a big claim against the estate, said that it did not appear satisfactory to him, and that, as far as he was concerned, the order of arrest would stand and probably would be served unless the inventory was corrected.

According to Rogers many items in the inventory which are marked as nominal value should have been valued into more carefully by the executors, and the value ascertained by Mr. Goldsmith, attorney for the executors, said that the executors were faced by an almost impossible task in fixing valuations on the property questioned by Mr. Rogers.

The initial item in the inventory is a list of all the furniture at No. 27 Riverside, the old headquarters of "Big Tim." This is valued at $200.

A 1912 model Packard motor is valued at $1,200, while Senator McCarter and Catherine H. two race horses, eighteen and fifteen years old respectively

Brush Fire Explodes Magazine
on Government Property—
Heavy Damage Done

PANAMA, May 5.—An explosion to-day at the Government of Panama dynamite magazine resulted in the killing of eight persons. Nineteen others were seriously injured. The property was destroyed.

The explosion was caused by a brush fire which made its way to the interior of the building. Six of the dead and most of the wounded are firemen who had been summoned to combat the flames. A man and a woman who were watching the blaze were literally torn to pieces. The concussion of the explosion shook Panama. In addition to obliterating the magazine the explosion caused considerable property damage in the neighborhood.
